

Ben Molinaro

Film and TV Composer, Songwriter.

Bio

Ben Molinaro is a Paris-based multi-instrumentalist and composer. He writes music for film, television, and advertising, and has notably scored the feature film "Milf" (2018) and the TV series "Les Invisibles", whose fourth season aired on France 2 in late 2024.

Originally a bassist for artists such as Ibrahim Maalouf and CocoRosie, he later turned to production and composition. After several solo projects, he released his latest EP "Hey Milly" in 2024, following the 2022 EP "Don't Try", co-written with Nina Tonji and Jay Adams. He has also produced albums for other artists, including Pab The Kid and Sly Johnson.

In 2025, he co-produced the debut album of singer Ana, together with Ana Filey and Stefan Filey, released on October 10, 2025.
